

On July 12 1661

First ordinary meeting held at Wildtwyck

Was resolved by the Schepens here present to hold and convene Court on Tuesday and subsequently every two weeks, till further orders of the Director General and Council of New Amsterdam.

On the same date Sergeant Christiaen Nissen Romp informs us that while there is no grain to be had for the military Peter Van Alen, the shoemaker, is exporting some wheat. This point is discussed and it is resolved that the shoemaker shall offer his remaining grain to the sergeant Christiaen Nissen Romp, provided the latter pays on delivery.

On the same date Schout and Schepenen appointed one Jacob Joosten, as well for all kinds of church services as also for the service of the court. He is made and appointed Courtmessenger, but only provisionally, until further orders of the Director General, and shall receive for one year two hundred guilders in zeewant [wampum].
